

EXTENSION EDUCATOR

CROPPING SYSTEMS (HAMILTON AND MERRICK COUNTIES)
UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA

HIRING

Do you have the drive to help feed the world by leading on-farm research discovery and teaching agricultural science to top crop producers and agribusiness professionals? Can you be a strong regional leader and develop focused, comprehensive educational programs in Irrigated Cropping Systems? We have an excellent opportunity for a full-time faculty position located in Central City, Nebraska that serves Merrick and Hamilton counties.

Nebraska Extension is an organization that values individuals who are self-directed, excel, adapt easily, exhibit passion for helping others and are excellent communicators. As a member of the Nebraska Extension team you will collaborate with research and extension faculty who are leaders in their field of expertise. You will work with high performing teams to create and deliver world class, innovative learning experiences that empower Nebraskans to improve their lives around critical issues.

Required Qualifications:

- Master's degree in Agronomy, Weed Science, Crop Science, Soil Science, Biological Systems Engineering, Mechanized Agriculture Systems or Doctor of Plant Health or other closely related field required. Master's degree must be completed by start date.
- Successful experience teaching in a formal or non-formal setting.
- Demonstrated ability to communicate (i.e. publications, web media, presentations).
- Minimum of 2 years experience with agricultural production similar to Nebraska systems.
