

EXTENSION EDUCATOR

DOMESTIC WATER/ WASTEWATER (LANCASTER COUNTY)
UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA

HIRING

Do you have the passion and drive to provide strong leadership for Nebraska Extension's domestic water and wastewater educational programs? Can you be a statewide expert and develop focused, comprehensive learning programs for domestic water and wastewater professionals and service providers?

University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension is an organization that values individuals who excel, adapt easily, exhibit passion for helping others, and are excellent communicators. As a member of the Nebraska Extension team you will collaborate with research and extension faculty who are leaders in their field. You will work with high performing teams to create and deliver world class, innovative learning experiences that empower Nebraskans to improve their lives around critical issues.

This excellent opportunity is a full-time faculty position located in Lincoln, Nebraska and serving statewide. We are seeking individuals who are self-directed and able to work in a flexible environment.

The goal of this focused extension educational program is to create, market, deliver and assess educational programs and resources (including certification programs) for domestic water and wastewater professionals and service providers.

Required Qualifications:

- Master's degree in environmental science, water science, environmental engineering, biological systems engineering or other closely related field is recommended. Master's degree must be completed by start date.
- Successful experience teaching in a formal or non-formal setting.
- Demonstrated ability to communicate (i.e. publications, presentations, web and social media).

Review of applications will begin on 06/03/2016. Position will remain open until a suitable candidate is found or search is closed. For a detailed job description, additional qualifications and how to apply, go to <http://employment.unl.edu> and search for requisition F_160097.
