

EXTENSION EDUCATOR

LEARNING CHILD
UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA

HIRING

Do you have the passion to help us impact children and their families in positive ways? Can you be a strong statewide leader that creates, markets, delivers and assesses comprehensive online learning programs and resources that help create environments and experiences for children that result in improved school readiness and enhanced social-emotional growth and development? Nebraska Extension is an organization that values individuals who excel, adapt easily, exhibit passion for helping others, and are excellent communicators. As a member of the Nebraska Extension team you will collaborate with research and extension faculty who are leaders in their field. You will work with high performing teams to create and deliver world class, innovative learning experiences that empower Nebraskans to improve their lives around critical issues.

We have an excellent opportunity for a full-time faculty position that is self-directed and able to work in a flexible environment. The focus of this position will be The Learning Child with an emphasis on child development, human development and early childhood education. The target audiences for these educational programs include parents, teachers, early childhood professionals and caregivers of young children that focus on creating environments and experiences for children ages 0 to 5 resulting in improved school readiness and enhanced social emotional growth and development.

Required Qualifications:

- Master's degree with one degree in child development, human development, early childhood education or other closely related field required. Master's degree must be completed by start date.
- Successful experience teaching in a formal or non-formal setting.
- Demonstrated ability to communicate (i.e. publications, presentations, web and social media).
- Experience and demonstrated ability in working with parents, teachers, early childhood professionals and caregivers of young children.
