2021 Impact At-A-Glance

Brought to you by Nebraska Extension

To encourage curiosity, imagination, and creative play in children of all ages, Dixon County Extension provides innovative programming that utilizes and celebrates our county resources.

This year as we transitioned back to in-person events, many families and children were happy to attend events and programs to build a better connection with Extension. Summer camps, educator workshops, and family-oriented event programming support education and community collaborations. Participants note, “Thank you for holding this event; my family always has such a great time!” Not only do adults benefit, but children share comments such as, “Is it time for summer camp yet? I can’t wait to come back!”

Programs At-A-Glance

- The Dixon County Cover Crop Project evaluates and assesses both short and long-term effects of cover crops in the area to enhance soil ecosystems for farmers.
- By providing a variety of community events, families, farmers, and stakeholders discover gardening, pollinators, positive nutrition practices, and effective crop production methods.

80 HOURS
of children and adult early childhood programming have been provided this year alone.

500+ farmers in Northeast Nebraska have been served by county programming on relevant practices.

20 Individual programs offered by Dixon County Extension in a variety of topics and expertise areas.
