

Wayne County

Impact At-A-Glance

Brought to you by Nebraska Extension

wayne.unl.edu

The Mobile Beef Lab experience teaches students science principles through a ruminant animal.

Wayne County students were exposed to new program this year the Mobile Beef Lab. The Mobile Beef Lab gives youth a real-world experience of a ruminant animal by engaging with a fistulated beef animal. Wayne High School Ag Education teacher says, “The Mobile Beef Lab was perfect for Animal Science class as we were in the digestive unit. Students were able to “feel” what they were learning so it impacted them in multiple senses. 8th grade agriculture students were also able to really get into agriculture and see the future opportunities they have!”

Programs At-A-Glance

- 17 new STEM, Leadership and Ag Literacy focused school enrichment programs offered to students and staff in Wayne County.
- Two new full-time staff are dedicated to increasing 4-H and Extension programming opportunities in Wayne County.

1,135

sophomores from 40 schools explored 62 career options during the Northeast Nebraska Career Day.

12

food and nutrition lessons have been facilitated in specialized learner classrooms.

717

minutes of daily physical activity was reported by youth in Wakefield through Wellsclapes, a UNMC initiative.