

The LCC class of 14 developed 8 action plans around key local issues discussed in each monthly session. They are implementing a county-wide volunteer database that can be used to recruit new leaders.

“Leadership Custer County was yet another step in my personal growth providing me with knowledge around community development issues we are currently facing. We were able to connect with community leaders and networked with local, regional, and state support groups from varying industries and backgrounds that have proven our current issues are not going unnoticed. The passion our leaders exhibit to actively better our community gives me a great sense of pride and acts as a catalyst for myself to join in the effort,” from Torey McMullen a participant in Leadership Custer Country 2023.
