

The University of Nebraska has current and helpful information for farmers and land owners.

In 2019 and early 2020, workshops were held across the state for cash rent and managing agricultural land. These workshops were videotaped, and are now available at <https://go.unl.edu/agland2020>

There are seven remaining workshops scheduled around the state. To view the list of locations and dates, go to: <https://go.unl.edu/inj7> These workshops will cover real estate and financial trends, the latest cash rent information, leasing issues and considerations, best practices for negotiating, farm succession and more.

On a related note, there are four upcoming webinars from the Land Management Quarterly from Ag Econ. Go to: <https://go.unl.edu/xojx>

If you have questions, please contact Ryan Evans at the University of Nebraska – Lincoln at 402-472-2560.

