

GRAIN BIN SAFETY

SECONDS COUNT

SAFETY WORKSHOP

Each year, farmers risk their lives by entering large grain bins to remove clumped or rotting grain while machinery is still running. Much like quicksand, flowing grain can bury a worker within seconds. Because these accidents have become all too common, Cass County Farm Bureau, Midwest Farmers Cooperative & Central Valley Ag, are partnering together to train farmers & families on the DO'S & DONT'S of grain bins.
