COVID-19 Update

Programming Update

• Nebraska Extension will continue to provide only remote programming through June 15, 2020. Decisions beyond that timeframe will be made later.

Virtual Judging of Livestock and Static Exhibits Option

• Nebraska 4-H is working on options for evaluating livestock and static exhibits. While we hope we don't have to implement these options, we do want to be prepared and will communicate once decisions have been made (likely around June 1<sub>st</sub>).

Weigh In and Tagging Dates

• For 2020, there should be no 4-H weigh-in or tagging in-person gatherings. These are non-essential functions and families should not be put at risk.

As a reminder, 4-H is a program of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and we must abide by those guidelines. Continue to check the updated list at: https://4h.unl.edu/covid-19

Sheep Weigh-In

There will be NO sheep weigh-in this year. Families can call the office to pick up DNA envelopes (for state fair) and Livestock ID sheets. As always please call the office with any questions.

Clover Kid May Virtual Workshop

May 14th 4-5 p.m. – Gardening 101 We will learn from a story about a hardworking and resourceful rabbit and a lazy bear as they explore "Tops & Bottoms" of plants we eat. Then, we will learn about the seeds you have and "take a journey" with those seeds as they strive to become new plants. Finally, you will plant the seed you have and exhibit it at fair. (Note: if you want to plant in a pot, you can bring the whole pot to fair as a clover kid.)

Materials needed: Participants will need access to seeds (and a seed label telling how deep to plant, etc.) to plant, poster board OR paper, markers/colors, pencil. (optional: printout) Be sure an adult is helping, and you will be on your way in creating two potential fair projects!

To register, go to:

https://go.unl.edu/cloverkidworkshop

"Pick A Project" Zoom workshop series

These encourage 4-H'ers to practice their fair project progress and to learn how to make (or at least get started on) projects for County Fair 2020. We encourage youth ages 8-18 to register for one or all four of the workshops. Register by visiting https://go.unl.edu/4hpickaprojectfridays.

May 8 – Heritage

Join Nuckolls/Thayer 4-H Educator Kylie Kinley as she explores the Heritage project. We'll peer into the past and brainstorm what historical stories or family heirlooms would make quality projects for fair. Supplies: Pencil and paper, potential heirlooms, family photos, list of family members for family tree drafting.

May 15 - "Coffeecake 201"

Join Clay County 4-H Associate Holli Alley from her kitchen as she bakes coffee cake for the Cooking 201 project. Youth will learn basic baking techniques to perfect yummy coffee cake for the county fair.

May 22 -- "T-shirt Rags to Riches"

Fillmore County 4-H Assistant Rachel Adams will show youth how to use old t-shirts that would normally be used as rags to make a one-of-a-kind rug. Don't know how to sew? No problem! We'll use a braiding technique to craft our rugs. This will not be a project we will get done in an hour, but you can work on it in your spare time. I will provide videos of how to braid if you are new to this, and I will also have a video on how to finish your project once you have your rug at a size you like. Supplies: Old T-shirts cut into 1 <sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> inch strips. Around 10 XL shirts or the equivalent would be a good place to start. Avoid too many seams in your strips. You will also need scissors (fabric scissors would work best).

May 29 – World of Weeds

Join Fillmore County Extension Educator Brandy VanDeWalle & Todd Boller, county weed superintendent, as they explore common weeds and even start you on an exhibit for county fair. Exhibit to enter: Weed Display -The purpose of this class is to allow original and creative exhibits that contain educational information about weeds, such as interesting information about a weed species, the effects of weed control, herbicide-resistant weeds, what makes a weed, or uses for weeds. Supplies needed: 1-3 weeds to identify, sheet of paper and pencil to brainstorm a poster idea. (Optional: poster board & supplies to get started on a poster.)

NEBRASKA 4-H Updates:

State Public Speaking Contest: Held virtually on June 24. In order to provide as much opportunity for equity statewide (even those with poor/no internet connection), the plan is for youth to submit videos that will be judged.
 Big Red Camps: Cancelled for 2020. Exploring

"virtual-learning experiences" in select content areas.

Life Challenge: County-level only for 2020. Planning is underway for 2021.PASE: Postponing to September 21 & 22.

Companion Animal Judges Workshop

As we continue with no in person 4-H events and youth staying at home with their animals, we are offering an additional learning opportunity for kids to prepare for show season. This will help youth and potential judges understand more about how animals are judged in classes. Do you show Poultry? Cats? Rabbits? Have you ever wondered how judges choose the ribbons placings in the classes you show in? Join the Companion Animal Judges Workshop! The Nebraska 4-H Companion Animal Judges Workshop is an online workshop opportunity for adults interested in judging 4-H companion animals. The course is designed to help new judges learn more about the project areas they might judge and prepare for the 4-H judging experience. Additionally, the online judges workshop course is a great resource for 4-H'ers interested in learning more about how their companion animals will be judged at fair. For questions, contact Grace Kim (grace.kim@unl.edu ). For more information and to sign up, go to: https://4h.unl.edu/companion-animal-judgesworkshop

Online Livestock Judging Video Series

During this unusual time I know that it is extremely difficult for youth to have the opportunity to practice livestock judging and prepare for future contests. This new video series will provide students the chance to evaluate the class, listen to a critique of the class, and hopefully gain some knowledge regarding terminology for their reasons moving forward.

Each week we will add 1 to 3 classes to the series that way students will enjoy plenty of content. Youth can access these videos at 4h.unl.edu/livestock or 4h.unl.edu/self-pacedvideos. Once you get to the website, simply scroll down and you should see the link for the online video series which is located on YouTube.

Opportunities

CASNR Change-Maker Scholarship Competition

Lincoln, Neb. —The College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln has launched a new quick pitch scholarship competition for students who dare to dream big and do the extraordinary to address worldwide issues.

The CASNR Change-Maker Quick Pitch Competition asks current and prospective CASNR students to submit a two-minute video explaining an original, innovative way to address global issues such a food security, sustainability and water use. Two current CASNR students and eight incoming freshmen and transfer students will be awarded fulltuition scholarships for the 2020-21 academic year based on their submitted videos. Winning students will be matched with a mentor to help make their big idea a reality.

Additionally, eight $1,000 CASNR scholarships will be awarded to youth in 6th through 11th grades. "We want innovators, change-makers and future leaders to get their start right here in the College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources," said CASNR Dean Tiffany Heng-Moss. "This competition will reward our current students who strive to tackle these big issues. At the same time, we hope to attract new students who are in search of a college experience in which they will be encouraged and expected to challenge themselves and change the world in the process." In Nebraska, one in four jobs is tied to agriculture and natural resources. Within CASNR, students, faculty and staff are already engaged in important work to provide food, fuel, feed and fiber to a rapidly growing world, while conserving agricultural landscapes and natural resources and maintaining quality of life for farmers and ranchers, said Mike Boehm, vice chancellor and vice president of the UNL's Institute for Agriculture and Natural Resources.

"Our state's deep roots in agriculture, coupled with Nebraska's abundant natural resources and our ingenuity and grit, make CASNR the ideal and natural epicenter for nurturing the world's next generation of change-makers," Boehm said. "We want to do everything we can to build on CASNR's culture that allows students to think critically, dream big, and accomplish extraordinary things." Current and prospective students can apply online at https://casnr.unl.edu/casnr-change-makercompetition.

Videos should be no more than two minutes long and must focus on one or more of the following issues:

- Feeding the world
- Water for the future
- New energy
- Climate and the future

- Biodiversity, sustainability and the environment
- Health
- Engaging diverse communities
- Developing tomorrow's leaders.

The competition will open on April 20 and will close at noon on May 15. Winners will be announced in June, and winning videos will be shared on social media. The winner whose video receives the most likes will also receive a textbook scholarship.

Complete application guidelines and more information may be found online at https://casnr.unl.edu/casnr-change-makercompetition.
