4-H-

Animal Science 101 for Clay and Fillmore counties continue to meet. We discuss all aspects of large animal production focusing on beef, sheep, goats and swine. We try to do hands on activities. This month we discussed dressing percentage using a pineapple curriculum from the Animals Inside and Out team.

I was trained to present the face to face Youth for the Quality Care of Animals. Look forward to implementing face to face classes to our youth that show meat producing livestock. This class will discuss the proper principals of being a good and ethical livestock producer and making sure the food production chain is safe.

Professional Development-

I continue to be involved in Extension Assistant Cohort, where we learn and grow together and help each other in programing ideas.

Also I work as part of a Leadership Circle with a few wonderful ladies and we work on ourselves and dig deeper into leadership skills.

Issue Team-

The Consumer Confidence Team met to discuss finishing up a few projects like Animals Inside and Out for middle school and a state wide Embryology curriculum. We also discussing what we should be teaching and discussing in the future for other lessons. One of the topics discussed was lab grown meat and protein alternatives.
