

AURORA, Neb.: York-Hamilton Cattlemen presented a charitable donation after auctioning off a book signed by John Cook, Head Coach of Nebraska Volleyball to the Hamilton County 4-H Council.

Extension Educator Emily Soll said the organization is grateful for the donation that will help the Hamilton County 4-H Council on its mission to develop local youth into competent, confident, caring and contributing citizens of good character.

“By supporting the Hamilton County 4-H Council, you are not just investing in today’s youth; you are sowing the seeds for future leaders. We thank each and every one of our donors for being a vital part of our mission to empower youth of Hamilton County. Together, we can make a lasting impact on their lives and contribute to the betterment of our communities.”

Preston Franzen, member of the York-Hamilton Cattlemen said “Donating the proceeds from the John Cook signed book auction is one of the several avenues the York-Hamilton County Cattlemen give back to the future of agriculture in our area. We are all looking forward to the positive impact today’s young men and women will make in our industry!”

---

Nebraska Cattlemen’s mission statement is to work on behalf of Nebraska cattle producers - pasture to plate.