

EXTENSION IS ON THE MOVE

November, 2011

Volume 1, Number 3

What's Inside:

On the Ranch

- Keep Heifer Development Costs in Check
- 2011-2012 Beef Short Course

In the Field

- Eastern Redcedar Utilization Demonstration Day

Heathy Eating

- Healthy Holiday Substitutions
- Options for Control - Diabetes Control for Life
- Preparing for Winter Storm Emergencies

Today's Future

- Holiday Traditions Are More Important Than You Realize

World of Work

- Teaching Kids About Money

Splash into Extension

- Water Conservation in the Rural Home

In the Dirt

- Where Do Insects Go For Winter
- Wolf Spiders

Beef Profit Tips Workshop

"Nebraska Cow-Calf Profitability Series"

Thursday, December 8, 2011

Community Center in Center, Nebraska

6:30 p.m.

Cost: $20 (includes proceedings and refreshments)

Topics:

- Heifer Development
- Forage Testing
- Animal Health
- Cost of Beef Cow Production

Workshop topics presented by University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension Educators and industry personnel.

Please pre-register by calling 402-288-5611 or email knox-county@unl.edu. We must have 3 or more participants to hold this workshop.

This workshop is sponsored by UNL Extension in Knox County.

Extension is a Division of the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln cooperating with the Counties and the United States Department of Agriculture.

University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension educational programs abide with the nondiscrimination policies of the