Welcome to the Master Gardener Volunteer Reporting System

University of Nebraska - Lincoln, Extension and the Master Gardener Program have developed this system to allow Master Gardeners to report their volunteer and educational activities through the use of on-line forms and reports, available at no charge and completely secure.

First you need to enroll.

IMPORTANT! If you have been reporting your hours and activities into the former UNL Master Gardener system, you do NOT need to re-enroll. Your records are intact and have been ported to this new system.

Read "Getting Started: Master Gardener Instructions for the new On Line Reporting System" (PDF 195Kb). This document will fully explain how to start using this new reporting system. What to do first will be determined by whether you've been using the old system or not. Read this and you'll know what to do.

You may ALSO visit the Master Gardener On Line Reporting System Getting Started Page for details and instructional videos about using the new system.

If you have NOT been reporting your hours and activities on-line using the former system, then you may enroll and start keeping your records today. It's easy. First, read the "Getting Started" guide mentioned above, and then Enroll! That's all there is to it!

Enroll Now! Do Not use the Enroll Now feature.

You can leave this as your username and password or change one or both.

If you are worried you will forget, I can go in and look this up for you any time. (old system, I could not)

To change, see instructions in Step #2 – System Tour video.

Before you enter any hours, make sure to look at the reports to see what is currently in the system. The lists will have the most current record on top.

If you have any questions, contact me first. If I cannot help, we will contact Richard with the Tech Support button.

Anyone is still welcome to send the hours to me and I will enter for you.
