As a leader you will be working with 4-H members You can have an important role in helping 4-H members grow and develop. Start where members are in their development and encourage them to grow physically, socially, intellectually and emotionally.

Remember, 4-H club or project group members will develop at their own pace, but there are some characteristics that each age group may share. These characteristics and their implications for you, as a volunteer, may be helpful to consider in planning a project group or club activity.

Middle childhood

Characteristics	Implications for volunteers
Characteristics
Spirited, with boundless energy.	Provide active learning experi- ences.
Girls will be maturing faster than boys; some may be entering puberty.	Avoid competitions between girls and boys.
Large and small muscle develop- ment, strength, balance, and coor- dination are increasing.	Plan activities that allow youth to move about and use their bodies.
Social
Enjoy group activities and coopera- tion. Feel loyal to group or club.	Emphasize group learning experi- ences and form groups to plan activities together.
Prefer to be with members of the same sex.	Plan learning experiences to be done with members of the same sex.
Admire and imitate older boys and girls.	Encourage experiences with and mentoring by older youth.
Need guidance from adults to stay on task and to perform at their best.	Work closely with this age group and enlist older youth to help you with this task.
Intellectual
Interests often change rapidly and do best when work presented in small pieces.	Allow for many brief learning expe- riences and give simple, short directions.
Vary greatly in academic abilities, interests, and reasoning skills.	Offer activities appropriate for a wide range of abilities so that all children have a chance to succeed.
Easily motivated and eager to try new things.	Provide a variety of different activi- ties.
Emotional
Comparisons with other youth is difficult and erodes self-confidence. Prefer recognition and praise for doing good work.	Instead of comparing youth with each other, help youth identify their own successes by comparing present and past performances for the individual.

Activity 2 - HANDOUT

Young teens

Characteristics	Implications for volunteers
Charact	eristics
Experience rapid changes in physi- cal appearance, with growth spurt happening earlier for girls than boys.	Be willing to talk about physical changes because new teens are often uncomfortable with and embarrassed by their changing bodies.
Have intense sexual feelings and a keen interest in their own bodies.	Provide honest information to the sexual questions they have. Pre- pare opportunities to help youth discuss body development as a natural, normal process. Listen to their fears without judging or trivial- izing.
Interested in sports and active games.	Encourage active, fun learning experiences.
Social
Concerned about social graces, grooming, and being liked by peers.	Encourage learning experiences related to self-discovery, self-under- standing, and getting along with others. Be patient with grooming behaviors that may seem exces- sive.
Moving away from dependency on parents to dependency on opinions of peers.	Parents may need help in under- standing that this shift is a sign of growing maturity, not rejection of family.
Becoming interested in activities that involve boys and girls.	Provide opportunities for boys and girls to mix without feeling uncom- fortable — seems to work best if youth plan activities themselves.
Intellectual
Tend to reject solutions from adults in favor of their own.	Involve young teens in setting rules and planning activities for your group or program.
Beginning to think more abstractly and hypothetically. Can think about their own thinking and are becom- ing skilled in the use of logic and cause-and-effect.	Ask questions that encourage pre- dicting and problem solving. Help youth to find solutions on their own by providing supervision without interference.
Can take responsibility for planning and evaluation of their own work.	Allow young teens to plan activities and expect follow through. Help them to evaluate the outcome.
Emotional
Can be painfully self-conscious and critical. Vulnerable to bouts of low self-esteem.	Plan many varied opportunities to achieve and have their competence recognized by others. Concentrate on developing individual skills.
Changes in hormones and thinking contribute to mood swings.	Remember that early adolescents are known for their drama and feel- ings that seem extreme to adults. Accept their feelings and be careful not to embarrass or criticize.
Desire independence, yet need their parents' help.	Encourage youth to work with adults and older teens.

Teens

Characteristics	Implications for volunteers
Characteristics
Most have overcome the awkward- ness of puberty, but some boys are still growing at a fast pace. Many are concerned with body image.	Avoid comments that criticize or compare stature, size, or shape.
Social
Strong desire for status in their peer group.	Establish a climate that is condu- cive to peer support.
Interested in coeducational activi- ties. Dating increases.	Allow teens to plan coeducational and group oriented projects or activities.
Often want adult leadership roles.	Provide opportunities for teens to plan their own programs.
Want to belong to a group, but also want to be recognized as unique individuals.	Place emphasis on personal devel- opment whenever possible.
Intellectual
Reach high levels of abstract think- ing and problem solving.	Put youth into real life problem- solving situations. Allow them to fully discover ideas, make deci- sions, and evaluate outcomes.
Developing community conscious- ness and concern for the well-being of others.	Encourage civic projects that are a service to others.
Increasing self-knowledge; per- sonal philosophy begins to emerge.	Allow time and plan activities for youth to explore and express their own philosophies.
Need life planning guidance as they are beginning to think about leaving home for college, employment, etc.	College visits, field trips to busi- nesses, and conversations with col- lege students or working adults can be helpful activities.
Emotional
Feelings of inferiority and inade- quacy are common.	Encourage youth by helping them to see their positive self-worth.
Gaining independence and devel- oping firm individual identity.	Give teens responsibility and expect them to follow through. Pro- vide opportunities that help teens explore their identity, values, and beliefs.
