

Opportunity to publish your paper (s) presented at the 3rd International Millet Symposium in “AGRICULTURE”

“Agriculture”, an open-access international peer reviewed research journal from MDPI (<http://www.mdpi.com/journal/agriculture>) would be pleased to publish a special issue of full papers emanating from the 3rd International Millet Symposium (= 3rd International Symposium on Broomcorn Millet) with charge of (US $ 389/article).

Agriculture (ISSN 2077-0472) is an international and cross-disciplinary scholarly and scientific open access journal on the science of cultivating the soil, growing, harvesting crops, and raising livestock. We will aim to look at production, processing, marketing and use of foods, fibers, plants and animals. The journal Agriculture will publish reviews, regular research papers, communications and short notes, and there is no restriction on the length of the papers.

Editor in Chief, Professor Les Copeland encourage scientists to publish their experimental and theoretical research in as much detail as possible. Open access is supported by the authors and their institutes.
