ExtensionCorps members help Nebraska Extension reach youth who are most in need of life-changing information. Our members serve across the state, and they teach in classrooms and after-school settings. They educate Nebraska’s youth on nutrition and science literacy concepts. Our goals are for youth to establish healthy lifestyles by making good decisions about food and physical activity and increase positive attitudes about science through applying concepts in everyday life and increased academic performance. We’re looking for members committed to making a difference and who are motivated, responsible, confident, and open to trying something new.

ExtensionCorps is an AmeriCorps program. ExtensionCorps is funded by ServeNebraska, the Nebraska Volunteer Service Commission.

Service Position Title and Type
AmeriCorps Service Scholar—Nutrition Education. This is a quarter-time (470 hours) position. Service averages 10 hours per week. The service term ends August 31, 2016.
